Brian Baitup: Authorising Engineer & Trainer Profile

Experience

Brian worked as a Plant and Combat Engineer with the Army for 10 years from leaving school, attaining advanced qualifications in both disciplines and working on a variety of projects worldwide. Brian's training experience started with the Army too, working as a qualified Cross Country and Downhill Ski Instructor, which he carried on into civilian life working in Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

Following on from his military career, Brian worked as a sales engineer with BP in Industrial, Transport and Agricultural engineering.

During the 21 years that Brian was employed by BOC, 13 of these were as a Medical Engineering trainer and Risk Specialist, developing and presenting training for medical gas engineers as well as gas and cryogenic liquid safety training both in UK and abroad, working both to UK HTM and US NFPA standards. During his time with BOC Brian gained an Integrated Business Technology HNC and Eng. Tech qualification.

Brian also presented training as a guest lecturer at Eastwood Park.

In addition to vast engineering experience, Brian has utilised his IT knowledge by developing software solutions for the BOC training and Risk Management business.

Brian is also a fully qualified Authorising Engineer (MGPS).
